

July 21, 2008

This WEEKS RESTRICTIONS WILL READ: YELLOW: The City is experiencing difficulty meeting its water needs. There is no outside use of water except, the hand watering or drip irrigation of plants shrubs and gardens. There will be no commercial use of water such as dust abatement, power washing etc.

New Probe has arrived, please read narrative below.

If you have a need to use water other than what is listed above, such as power washing a building prior to painting etc. Please contact the city the day before the use so we can manage our water supply.

The City is at yellow because well #2 stopped producing water. The probe that senses the water depth had failed earlier. The City has received the new probe and hopes to have the probe installed by midweek. Again I want to remind everyone that just because we have a probe in the well it does not mean we have water!!! We will have more information by the first of next week and will let people know if there will be a change in the water conservation level of the city

David Poucher

Mayor, City of White Salmon